The reporters of the Kennedy School Newspaper have been working hard on another survey. This time we asked students what kinds of things they like on their pizza. We did our survey during lunchtime, so students would not get too hungry answering our questions. And this time we were able to ask 600 students to take our survey. That is almost all the students at our school!

For our survey, we let students pick their three favorite toppings. Some student only chose one or two toppings. That was OK, too.

The following chart shows the result of the survey.

WORD BANK: sausage 香肠; bacon 培根; toppings 顶部配料

We hope you enjoyed taking this survey. We enjoyed your answers. And next time you invite your friends over for pizza, be sure to order an extra-large pizza with the ingredients above. Those are the toppings people like most!

66. Why did the reporters do the survey during lunchtime?
67. What topping do the fewest students like?
68. How many percents of students like cheese for the pizza topping?
69. According to the kinds listed in the chart, how many students prefer fruit for the pizza toppings?
70. What topping do you like for your own pizza? And why?
