Father's Day is a special day for everyone. People celebrate this day on the third Sunday in June to thank fathers all over the world. This year, my brother and I thanked our father not only for keeping us safe and happy, but also for supporting(支持) our school.

My dad is a person who always cares about us. Sometimes, he is more like a friend than a parent. He likes to accompany me to go hiking, shopping and swimming. He always makes delicious food for the family. He can also fix(修理) our house and our car. Sometimes, he also takes on the role of a teacher when I have problems with my math or history homework.

He also supports me at school. He comes to every school sports game. He cheers(为……欢呼) for me during volleyball games. My father's love is as strong as a mountain. With his full support, I feel more confident and can play better.

On Father's day, I made hand-written cards for my dad. These things might be simple, but I know my dad enjoyed them during this hard time. After all, they were full of my deep love for him.

VI. 阅读理解(二) (共 5 小题, 每小题 2 分, 满分 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 并回答问题。

In Florida in the US, primary school students have no homework now. The only thing they have to do is to read for 20 minutes each night.

This is called a "no homework" policy (政策). Around the US, many primary schools are trying out this policy. But there is some debate (争议) about it.

Some think this policy is good. With no homework, kids can have more time to play sports and be with their families. But others believe homework helps students remember what they have learned in class. It can also help kids make good daily routines.

In fact, the debate lasts (持续) for more than 100 years in the US.

In the 1900s, many schools required no homework. But these days, parents ask for more homework, because competition (竞争) from kids around the world is becoming greater. And now, people still question whether homework should be part of kids' lives or not.

This is part of a long history of debate over homework and it may continue for years.

A. See you later.

B. Can you go with me?

C. How's everything going?

D. What are you doing?

E. You can take the No. 37 bus.

56. According to the passage, what do primary school students in Florida have to do each night?

57. What is the advantage(优势) of homework? (One example is OK.)

58. In the US, how long does the debate last?

59. Why do parents ask for more homework these days?

60. Do you want to have homework? Why or why not?
